JOHN G. GRISAFI

Asian Religions and Religion & Modernity
john.grisafi@yale.edu | Office hours here

John studies the modern history and politics of religion in East Asia and the world, with a research focus on Korea. His path to the PhD includes working for the US Army, primarily in South Korea, then as a journalist covering North Korea, followed by undergraduate and MA studies at the University of Pennsylvania, where he majored in History and East Asian Languages & Civilizations.

WENDY MALLETTE

Theology and Women's,
Gender & Sexuality Studies

wendy.mallette@yale.edu | Office hours here

Wendy is a PhD candidate in theology whose research brings theories of gender, sexuality, race, and affect to bear on methods in religious studies and theology. Her dissertation draws on lesbian feminist and queer theory to consider the doctrine of sin in relation to sex, sociality, and structural oppression. Wendy received an MAR in WGSS from YDS in 2015.

ED WATSON

Theology

edward.watson@yale.edu | Office hours here

Ed came to the US from the UK in 2012, started an MAR in theology at YDS in 2016, and is now entering the second year of the PhD program. He primarily focuses on decolonial analyses of Christian concept formations, with a particular interest in the work of Ludwig Wittgenstein and Hortense Spillers
